American Heart Association Instructor Essential On-Line Program

The AHA's Instructor Essentials courses are online, self-directed, discipline-specific courses that include information needed to teach classroom courses and conduct skills practice and skills testing sessions for eLearning courses associated with each discipline. Completion of the AHA Instructor Essentials Course is a required step to become an AHA Instructor.

The steps for becoming an AHA Instructor are:

1. Be accepted by an AHA Training Center prior to enrolling in an Instructor Course and completed an Instructor Candidate Application form to file with that Training Center
2. Have a current AHA provider status in the discipline for that Instructor Course and be proficient in all the skills of that discipline
3. Successfully complete the discipline-specific Instructor Essentials Online course(s) and print the certificate of completion
4. Successfully complete the discipline-specific classroom Instructor Course
5. Successfully complete being monitored at two teaching sessions course within three months of completing the discipline-specific classroom Instructor Course (Training Center Coordinators can require additional monitoring if needed)

ACLS/PALS Instructor Internship:

Instructor Candidates will be required to complete two student teaching sessions under the supervision of an EMSTAT Training Center Faculty Member. Student teaching must be completed within 3 months of the initial Instructor class. Candidates may require additional sessions as determined by Training Center Faculty and the Training Center Coordinator.

6. All Instructors must be registered and confirmed (aligned) on the AHA Instructor Network. Aligning on the AHA Instructor Network will allow the Instructor to obtain and use the Instructor ID# that is required on all course completion cards, as well as critical tools and information needed to conduct courses.

(Information on how to obtain your Instructor ID # will be provided after you have registered for the Instructor class)

Once you have registered, all the appropriate information will be sent to you to complete
